STATINTL

A while back one of the TV stations was disturbed because Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, Middlebury's highest ranking military man, was to be passed over when it came to selecting a successor to Allen Dulles to head the Central Intelligence Agency, because the State Department had him on its black list for talking back. Now Washington reports Gen. Trudeau is slated to become deputy to the new director, John McCone. Gen. Trudeau's appointment will give the country another anti-Communist in an office where he can do the most to hurt Communism.
